

KETA LAGOON RETREAT OVERNIGHT STAY

On the edge of the beautiful Keta lagoon lies a charming accommodation built on stilts just over the water, with a perfect view for the evening's sunset. This one-night stay gives volunteers an opportunity to kick back and relax in new surroundings. There is a restaurant, bar and TV, with ample seating if you just want to get away from everything with a book or some music.

Just a few minutes' walk in the opposite direction are the golden sandy beaches of the Atlantic ocean. With virtually no other tourists in this corner of the Volta region, Keta Lagoon is a beautiful setting to wind down in complete tranquility after a hard day of volunteering.
